

SYNONYMS, ANTONYMS AND HOMOPHONES

Synonyms are two different words that have similar meanings
Synonyms are two different words that have similar meanings
Synonyms are two different words that have similar meanings
Synonyms are two different words that have similar meanings

Synonyms are words like tiny and small
The rat was tiny or the rat was small
Quick and speed
The cats real quick or the cats got speed
Synonyms are words like sick and ill
He feels reel sick he feels reel ill
There different words with similar meanings

Antonyms are two different words that have opposite meanings
Antonyms are two different words that have opposite meanings
Antonyms are two different words that have opposite meanings
Antonyms are two different words that have opposite meanings

Antonyms are words like happy and sad
If you're not happy you must be sad
Or words like hard and soft
If it's not hard it must be soft
Antonyms are words like near and far
If it's not near it must be far
Or words like peace and war
If its not peace it must be war

Homophones are two different words that sound the same but have different meanings
Homophones are two different words that sound the same but have different meanings
Homophones are two different words that sound the same but have different meanings
Homophones are two different words that sound the same but have different meanings

Homophones are words like their and there
Their going over there
Here and hear
This song right here you will hear
Homophones are words like too and two
I'll be at the mall too buying two pair of shoes
It sounds the same but have different meanings

Synonyms are two different words that have similar meanings
Antonyms are two different words that have opposite meanings
Homophones are two different words that sound the same but have different meanings
Homophones are two different words that sound the same but have different meanings